AUCTION

Rules of participating at the auction

Each bidder completes a registration form with basic essential information. The registration form is available on www.moro.si/auction and must be submitted directly on-line.

Prior to purchase, the coin is available for viewing at the seat of the Moro Company. A detailed description of the coin is published on the web site of the Moro Company and is accessible in both Slovenian and English. Investment gold coins are exempt from VAT.

The Commission determines the starting price of the coin and the unique price at which the coin may immediately be sold. Offers are being accepted through the registration form.

The Commission will examine the offers the day following the auction, at which time the Moro Company will issue a purchase invoice to the highest bidder. The invoice will become due three days following receipt. The Moro Company binds itself to transfer the payment to the account of the Moro Foundation on the day that the payment is made.

The auction lasts for a period of one month, with the intention of selling coins to the bidder who makes the highest offer on-line. The offer submitted is binding for the bidder.

The Moro Company does not publish information on offers and prices.

The members of the commission of the auction of Moro Company are: Ms. Barbara Režek, member of the Moro Foundation management board, Ms. Ina Radonič, advisor for precious metal investments in the Moro Company, Mr. Bogdan Kandus, numismatist and member of the Association of Numismatists of Slovenia.

The resources acquired from the auction will be donated to the Moro Foundation, which supports the development of IB-program international schools in Slovenia. The program currently unites more than 300 students from 40 countries across the world. More about the Foundation: www.morofoundation.org.
